CATHEDRAL LIFE WEEKLY

Harvest Festival, Sunday 2 October 2016

Harvest Celebration

SUNDAY 2 OCTOBER brings with it our annual Harvest Festival. It is a jubilant time, celebrated the world over in a variety of religious traditions.

It is the period during which we celebrate the yields of the land, and those who work upon it. It is a particularly important celebration for our region, as an area of great natural beauty, and a rich agricultural heritage.

Our 9:30am service is a parade with the Scouts and Guides, followed by our 11:15am Festival celebration. We will be welcoming the Revd Janet Nicholls; the Diocesan Rural Advisor and Agricultural Chaplain to preach. Her ministry is a vital one that seeks to be the Church's presence within the context of our farming communities.

Our 3:30pm Cantata Evensong is also a special service, with a complete performance of J.S. Bach's Wo Soll Ich Fliehen Hin? BWV5 (Where can I flee towards?) which will be sung by the Cathedral Choir, and the Eboracum Baroque Ensemble. All are welcome to attend the service with reception afterwards.

Study Notes on the Sunday Gospel

John 6: 25-35

Introduction & Context

Jesus' miraculous provision of food to the crowd has recalled, for John, the gift of manna to the people of Israel in the desert. The crowd has taken Jesus for a political messiah who will free them from Roman occupation. John continues to pursue the question: Who is Jesus? Is he divine?

Jesus and the disciples have escaped the crowds, but only for a while. Rather than tell them of his walking on water (which they would misunderstand), he does not answer them. He tells them that they are seeking him not because they understand the spiritual meaning of the food, but for another free meal (v. 26). He says: raise your sights above material things, to eternal ones, to what I, "the Son of Man will give you" (v. 27). The Father has shown me to be authentic ("seal"). I will give you nourishment for ever.

But they have only grasped that the food is miraculous, a work of God, so they ask: how can we do such miracles? (v. 28) Jesus answers: only one work of God (v.29) is essential: to trust in me. Again, they misunderstand; they ask: what proof will you give us? (v. 30). Moses gave us manna from heaven in the wilderness (v.31); you have only given us earthly food. We expect the Messiah to give us manna again. In v. 32, Jesus tries to clear up the misunderstandings:

- it was God, not Moses who gave you manna;
- the Father gives bread now; and
- manna met physical needs but "true bread" is more than that.

Then v. 33: Jesus himself is the true bread, the "bread of God": he "comes ... from heaven and gives life ...". They still do not grasp that he is the bread, Finally, he says: I am the sustenance of life itself, of very existence, for those who trust in me; I will fill their every need.

MISSION SUNDAY

9 October

This now annual event is an invitation to everyone who normally worships at the Cathedral to join a different worshipping community for the day. There will be no 9.30 or 11.15 on 9 Oct and people are encouraged to bring back stories of their experiences.

Meeting Point Trip to France

Members of the Meeting Point, the Cathedral group for those on their own, had a trip to France recently.

We drove to Folkestone to board Le Shuttle and then headed to Boulogne for lunch. Our overnight stop was in Montreuil, where Victor Hugo wrote Les Misérables. Some walked around the city walls whilst one stocked up on wine at The Wine Society Warehouse.

On day two we drove to St Valery-sur-Somme. The abbey owned Bradwell Chapel and William the Conqueror sailed from there. We took a ride on the narrow gauge steam train to Noyelles, before heading back to Blighty. It was a shame that Maureen, Mary and Lillian couldn't join us. We are eternally grateful to Penny Eslip for organising and doing all the driving.

Two Items and Two Pictures

Revd Kate Moore preached at the 11:15 Eucharist in the Cathedral on 31 July. She began with one of the 'breaking the ice' exercises at conferences where delegates are invited to choose the two items they would take from their house if they found it to be on fire. Given that I was due to go into hospital for a major operation less than 20 hours after the service, I had already thought along similar lines as to what I should take with me. My special items were two books of photographs. They each contained just 24 pictures, with one of friends and family and the other of places and animals.

Apart from the pictures of Winifred and my family, I frequently studied a photograph I had taken a couple of weeks earlier in the National Gallery of The Hay Wain by John Constable. Often we get the train to Manningtree and walk along the River Stour, watching the many birds on Cattawade Marshes (owned by the RSPB), to Flatford Mill where the picture is set. The painting particularly appeals to me not only for being a lovely landscape, just outside our county (and Diocese), but also as a working picture with people toiling in the fields and on the wagon itself. The beauty of our earth comes not from scenery but from our activities and interaction with other people.

I spent almost an hour at the Gallery sitting in front of The Hay Wain, but every so often my gaze would shift to The Fighting Temeraire by J M W Turner. This picture shows the obsolete naval vessel being towed westwards up the Thames to be scrapped, but with the sun setting in the east! The glorious coloured sunset brought to mind a sermon by Provost John Moses many years ago at the Cathedral. In my youth I lived at Leigh-on-Sea and can well remember the wonderfully coloured sunsets over Canvey Island and up the Thames which Provost Moses remembered from his time as Archdeacon of Southend. In his sermon he pointed out that the lovely sunset was in fact the result of atmospheric pollution, from the industry that still existed along the River! Sometimes, it is imperfections that make the world an interesting and beautiful place! What would your two items be?
