CATHEDRAL LIFE WEEKLY

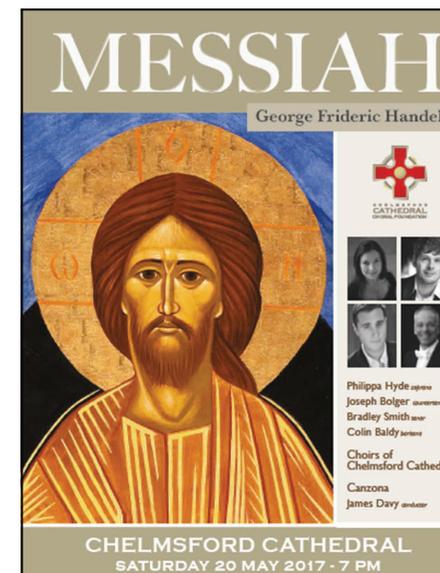

Easter 4, 7 May 2017

Messiah

From the prophecy of Isaiah to the book of Revelation, the life of Jesus, set to glorious music by George Frideric Handel, will receive a dramatic retelling on Saturday 20 May. The Cathedral Choir and Girls' Choir join forces with baroque ensemble Canzona, and four superb soloists: Joseph Bolger and Bradley Smith, two young opera singers who are making names for themselves on the national stage, and Philippa Hyde and Colin Baldy who make welcome returns amid busy schedules.

Written for Easter 1742, Messiah returns to its seasonal roots, being performed on Saturday 20 May, near the end of Eastertide and just before Ascension Day. The performance is guaranteed to be of the highest quality and offer an excellent evening out. Tickets for children aged 16 and under at £5, while adult tickets start at £10; seating is unreserved within differently-priced blocks; there is no extra charge to buy online at ticketsource.co.uk/chelmsfordcathedral

Study Notes on the Sunday Gospel

John 10: 1-10

Introduction & Context

In Palestine, sheep belonging to villagers roamed freely during the day but were confined to a common enclosure at night, to protect them from predators. Each morning, each shepherd called his sheep who followed him to pasture.

While “this figure of speech” (v. 6) is hard for us to understand in detail (as it was for those who heard Jesus), we can get the drift. So irate does the metaphor make the leaders that they try to stone him (in v. 31) and, in v. 40, Jesus flees across the Jordan. As he explains (v. 7), he is the “gate” of v. 2, so presumably the thieves and bandits are the Jewish religious leaders. Jesus, both the “gatekeeper” (v. 3) and the “shepherd” (v. 2) is the true leader. He calls the faithful to follow him (v. 4); they don’t follow a “stranger” (v. 5). The people listen to him and not to the “Pharisees” (9:40), “all who came before me” (v. 8). He is the only “gate” (v. 9) to eternal “life” (v. 10), to freedom (“come in and go out”, v. 9, a Jewish idiom), and to nourishment beyond measure (“find pasture ... abundantly”).

Once you are settled and are ready to go:

- Read the passage slowly and reflectively
- Note anything that particularly strikes you and refer to the notes if they are helpful
- Spend a few moments in quiet reflection
- If you are a group, share your reflections in pairs or as a whole group (remembering that each person will have different perspectives and views on the passage)
- Read the passage for a final time and give thanks to God for the gift of his holy word.

Song School Roof Repair

The scaffolding has gone up as work to the Song School roof has begun. It will last until November. During this time scaffolding will be in place both inside and outside the North Vestry Block. For safety reasons access to the Vestry Block may occasionally need to be restricted, particularly during the erection of the scaffolding. Please note that this means the toilets will then be closed. This will be kept to a minimum and thank you for your understanding.

Chelmsford City Council held their older persons' information day at the Cathedral. As in previous years, all tickets were sold and the series of talks and information points well-received.

New Interests Group Walk

The New Interests Group recently went on a walk around Shotley between the Stour and Orwell estuaries. We started at St Mary's Parish Church which has graveyards tended by The Commonwealth War Graves Commission containing graves of Royal Navy sailors and submariners of the 1st and 2nd World Wars as well as the Dutch and German Navies and also recruits from the nearby HMS Ganges training establishment. We then walked along the shoreline of both estuaries looking across to Harwich and Felixstowe container port. Lunch was taken at the Rose Pub in Shotley which can be recommended - nothing was left on plates!
